GARIBALDI STUDIOS WEDDING PHOTOGRAPHY GUIDE

I hope that you will find the information in the following pages informative and useful in choosing the type of photographic coverage for your wedding day!

Cahit Okten - Photographer

January 2010

About Us

We are a full time photographic studio with extensive people photography, fine art design and commercial photography experience. We are efficient, well organized and easy to work with.

24 years of experience in wedding and commercial photography shows we have photographed the full range of wedding styles; relaxed / informal, reportage style, prompted reality and traditional to name a few.

We would work closely with you to plan the style of photography coverage that meets your specific needs to record your special day. After all wedding photography is an important investment which will give you pleasure for years to come.

Our role is to plan and record the story of your day without any fuss or intrusion, to create with professional simplicity the album of your dreams.

The story of your wedding can be presented in many ways including a magazine style album, a traditional album, or a DVD, these are just some of the choices.

Wedding Conference

A unique Wedding Conference is held approximately 14 days before the wedding. This is an informal meeting to discuss arrangements for the day and finalise the details for the photographic coverage. If necessary we visit the locations (i.e. church / reception venue) together to plan the shots.

Award-winning Creativity

We are an established studio and we specialise in creative photography. Cahit (Ja-hit) Okten is a full-time, professional photographer whose work spans various imaging disciplines from advertising photography, digital imaging, multimedia creation to weddings and photo retouching. He has won awards for artistic excellence. He is also an adult education tutor in advanced image retouching and post production techniques.

“We feel privileged to be invited to photograph a wedding, one of the most important days in two persons’ lives. We know every wedding is a unique event. We concentrate all our energies to the job in hand and this means that the most important thing is not the job we did last Saturday or the one we will be doing next Saturday but the one today.”

The Finest Equipment

We use the finest high resolution digital capture equipment for our weddings. We bring along lighting gear and additional equipment to insure uninterrupted coverage. We provide an experienced assistant (with most packages) who helps with equipment.

Pre Wedding Photo-Shoot

We offer a pre wedding photo shoot to all our couples. This can take place in the comfort and privacy of our studio or on location. Five 10x8 inch prints will be supplied from this session completely free of charge. The images from this photo shoot can also be included in the wedding album.

Previewing Your Wedding Photographs

All photographs taken at the wedding are initially previewed at our studio at full resolution and later with your approval online at our wedding previews server. These will be available online for a period of six months. From these online previews you will be able to choose the photographs which will be included in your album. There is also optional CD-ROM or ink jet printed proof previews if required. Depending on style and coverage around 200-750+ digital photographs will be available for previews online at : <http://www.garibaldistudios.co.uk/wedding.html> follow the link to View Online Albums. The online previews can also be used by your family and friends to order further prints.

The Styles

Our photographic style for weddings are contemporary and tailored to your needs. We act as consultants to advise you about the current trends and what may be desirable in your wedding depending on the location. In the end we would like you to decide the type of coverage for your wedding. We shoot colour however black and white versions of images are created during post production therefore you have the option to have any image in colour or black and white. We photograph in reportage/documentary, prompted reality and traditional styles.

Service Guide

Utopia Wedding Photography Service

Utopia service includes coverage for the whole of your wedding day as standard from getting ready to the first dance.

Utopia albums come in various sizes and finishes to reflect your unique style and individuality.

All page content is designed in house by our designer according to your instructions and for your chosen unique look. The completed designs are then sent to our album manufacturer to create your album.

All parts of the album creation is carefully monitored and controlled and the whole album is hand crafted.

We believe an album containing unrepeatable memories require no less than perfection.

The Utopia package is tailored to the needs of the bride and groom and can also include traditional groups if required. Reportage/documentary, prompted reality, traditional coverage styles; mixture of formal, informal colour and black and white are all inclusive options.

The albums come in a number of sizes and cover - internal finishes, they range from 12x12 to 15x12 inches with overlays or magazine style. The number of pages and the content are all customisable.

Cover finishes range from Linen, Leather, Vinyl, Timber, Buckram, Suede to Metals to name a few. There are finishes to suit most discerning individual tastes. We have extensive sample and swatches in our studio to help you to choose the type of cover and finish for your special wedding album.

All Utopia wedding albums are handmade and designed individually and we actively invite couples to participate in the design process. The decision on the final details of the album size and page numbers can be deferred till after the wedding. After all, your relationship is unique and recording your wonderful wedding day should be achieved in a way unique to yourselves also,

Before Booking. . .

Organizing your own wedding could be a daunting task, you have to deal with a number of service providers and co-ordinate the timing of various parts of the event. Therefore we strongly advise the couples to discuss their photographic coverage requirements before making a firm booking for the timing of the meal, thus allowing adequate time for capturing your wedding for posterity.
